Allied Health

The School of Allied Health Professions building houses the following:

a. Allied Health Dean's Office and Student Affairs and Records
b. Cardiopulmonary Science (Respiratory Therapy) program
c. Clinical Laboratory Sciences (Medical Technology) program
d. Physician Assistant program
e. Occupational Therapy program
f. Physical Therapy program
g. Children's Center
h. Outpatient Rehabilitation Clinic

Both educational and clinical services are housed in the building. We have one additional program, Communication Disorders (Speech-Language Pathology) that is housed in the Mollie Webb Speech and Hearing Center at 3735 Blair Street.

Parking is available directly in front of the building for patients. Free parking for visitors is available across Linwood Avenue. Self-pay parking is also available across Kings Highway.

Feist-Weiller Cancer Center

1st floor: St. Jude Affiliate Clinic and Pediatric Treatment, CT and FWCC community library

2nd floor: Adult Medical Oncology and Hematology and Adult Treatment

3rd floor: Surgical Oncology, ENT Oncology, Mammography and Diagnostic Radiology, Operating Rooms and Endoscopy Suite

4th floor: Administrative offices and Clinical Research Administrative offices, Conference Room (Tiger Room)

The Feist-Weiller Cancer Center outpatient treatment building is the site of most all outpatient visits for cancer patients, including chemotherapy treatment for adults and children. Cancer screenings are performed in other areas of the medical center, such as Partners in Wellness Clinic in the Ambulatory Care Building and other LSUHSC-S clinics. Patients come to FWCC by referral from a community doctor, or from another LSUHSC-S clinic, or self-referral with diagnostic records.

Free parking for cancer patients is available in the dedicated lot around the FWCC building, with a valet available to park the cars. Spaces on the Kings Highway side of the building are reserved for Pediatric cancer patients. While there is room for most all FWCC patients to park, when the FWCC lot is full, we recommend parking in the self-pay lot directly across Kings Highway from FWCC. The fee is $3 and correct change is required.
